History (Secondary Education), BA

ASHISSEBA

With secondary educators in high demand, the history program at ASU's West campus offers a concentration in secondary education. With a flexible curriculum based on a traditional history degree, you will enhance your writing, research and communication skills in preparation to pass these skills on to the next generation of Arizona learners.

Program Description

The flexible BA program in history with a concentration in secondary education fully prepares students considering a career in education for teaching and certification and provides all the disciplinary knowledge of a traditional history degree. Students understand history in all its breadth and depth while developing strong critical reading, writing and research skills as well as skills in oral presentation.

This major is eligible for the Western Undergraduate Exchange program at the following location: West campus. Transfer Options

ASU is committed to helping students thrive by offering tools that allow personalization of the transfer path to ASU. Students may use MyPath2ASU™ to outline a list of recommended courses to take prior to transfer.

ASU has transfer partnerships in Arizona and across the country to create a simplified transfer experience for students. These pathway programs include exclusive benefits, tools and resources, and help students save time and money in their college journey. Students may learn more about these programs by visiting the admission site: https://admission.asu.edu/transfer/pathway-programs.

Global Opportunities

Global Experience
Studying abroad is a great opportunity for students studying history who wish to eventually become educators of the subject. Students can gain a better understanding of the past by studying the history of a place while living there. History students can hear narratives from locals in different regions of the world and experience a different perspective of the past, both of which can be present when educating their own students in their future classrooms. https://goglobal.asu.edu/

Career Opportunities
Graduates possess the strong, practical teaching tools necessary to successfully teach middle or high school students. With the ability to find and evaluate evidence, form arguments and present analysis, graduates are well suited for careers in a wide range of industries and fields of work, and they have a solid foundation for graduate work in teaching, law, business and many other fields.

Career examples include but are not limited to those shown in the following list. Advanced degrees or certifications may be required for academic or clinical positions.
