Latin American Studies, BA

Gain a greater understanding of the intersection of Latin American and American cultures, politics and business, a benefit in this increasingly intercultural world. Taught in Spanish, students leave the program bilingual and uniquely prepared to thrive in the culturally diverse Southwest region of the U.S.

Program Description

The BA program in Latin American studies offers a learner-driven model in which the student's specific interests are deepened through the study of Latin America culture, history, politics and the Spanish language. It is interdisciplinary and allows for flexibility in course selection while also instilling a breadth and depth of knowledge about issues surrounding Latin America. This dual-language degree program encourages cross-cultural exploration, preparing students for a global-minded career path.

This major is eligible for the Western Undergraduate Exchange program at the following location: West campus. Students from Western states who select this major and campus may be eligible for reduced nonresident tuition at a rate of 150 percent of Arizona resident tuition plus all applicable fees.
