Women and Gender Studies, BS

ASWSTBS

The women and gender studies degree program provides in-depth study of societal and historical structures that shape gender, race, class, ethnicity and sexuality. With a focus on research and social justice, our graduates become vital assets in civil rights organizations, NGOs, and in the political and corporate sectors.

Program Description

This interdisciplinary BS program in women and gender studies has a qualitative emphasis, and explores intersectional approaches to the study of gender, race, class, ethnicity and sexuality in national and transnational contexts.

Consistent with the university's design imperatives of social embeddedness and use-inspired research, the program's course offerings, research initiatives and co-curricular programs further the understanding of women and gender, and promote social justice. Students gain a solid knowledge base and educational foundation as well as the critical-thinking skills necessary for dealing with changing gender roles in society.
