Sports Journalism, BA

Do you have a passion for sports, and dream of telling the story behind the game? Join one of the nation's top sports journalism schools for hands-on experience covering some of the world's largest sporting events, as well as access to a variety of sports internships and intensive professional experience.

Program Description

Sports journalism is one of the fastest-growing sectors of the news media industry, with continued growth on all platforms: multimedia outlets, broadcast channels and networks, radio and podcasting and team, league and conferences websites and social media accounts.

The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication's bachelor's degree program in sports journalism gives students unparalleled preparation for careers in sports media and communications through courses such as the following: sports writing, sports photography, sports strategic communications, broadcast sports reporting, and ethics and diversity in sports.

During the degree program, students complete a variety of professional experiences. Internship partners include professional sports teams, Arizona State University athletics, local, regional and national sports media outlets like ESPN, Fox Sports, the Pac-12 networks and more. Sports journalism students also participate in the school's sports bureaus in Phoenix or Los Angeles for a semester. Students cover NBA, NHL, MLB, NFL, WNBA, and NCAA teams out of these fully operational digital sports newsrooms in Phoenix and Los Angeles, producing content for local and national media outlets.

Accelerated Program Options

This program allows students to obtain both a bachelor's and master's degree in as little as five years. It is offered as an accelerated bachelor's and master's degree with:

Master of Mass Communication, MMC

Acceptance to the graduate program requires a separate application. During their junior year, eligible students are advised by their academic departments to apply.

Admission Requirements

General University Admission Requirements:
All students are required to meet general university admission requirements.
Freshman | Transfer | International | Readmission

Additional Requirements:

The Bachelor of Arts in sports journalism degree program has higher admission requirements. Students should select a second choice of major on the application. All applicants are reviewed by the school. Those who are not admitted to the Cronkite School are admitted, if eligible, to their second choice of major.

Freshman applicants must meet all of the following standards:

1. a cumulative ABOR GPA of 3.00 (4.00 = "A") or a score of 22 on the ACT (24 nonresident) or a score of 1120 on the SAT (1180 nonresident)
2. no high school English competency deficiencies

Transfer Admission Requirements:

Transfer students with 12 or more transfer credit hours after high school graduation are required to have a cumulative transfer GPA of 3.00 or higher and no English competency deficiencies. Transfer students should contact the school for additional steps after admission to ASU.
Transfer students with 24 or more transferable credit hours after high school graduation are required to have a cumulative transfer GPA of 3.00 or higher. Transfer students should contact the school for additional steps after admission to ASU.

More information regarding transfer admission is available at https://cronkite.asu.edu/degree-programs/admissions/transfer-students.

Change of Major Requirements

ASU students who would like to change their majors to sports journalism must have at least a cumulative GPA of 3.00 in 12 or more credit hours of ASU courses that can be used to satisfy the Cronkite School's nonelective General Studies requirements. MCO 120, an introductory course for nonmajors, can count in place of JMC 110.

Students should refer to https://changemajor.apps.asu.edu for information about how to change a major to this program.

Transfer Options

ASU is committed to helping students thrive by offering tools that allow personalization of the transfer path to ASU. Students may use MyPath2ASU™ to outline a list of recommended courses to take prior to transfer.

ASU has transfer partnerships in Arizona and across the country to create a simplified transfer experience for students. These pathway programs include exclusive benefits, tools and resources, and help students save time and money in their college journey. Students may learn more about these programs by visiting the admission site: https://admission.asu.edu/transfer/pathway-programs.

Global Opportunities

Global Experience

Sports and sports fans create one of the most globalized industries that connects everyone through a passion for their favorite team, athlete or game. Study abroad programs can help shed light on how amazing stories of triumph and defeat are captured on video, photo or in media. Students can apply real-world skills and learn about international sports firsthand by covering regional teams or large-scale sporting events like the Olympics. https://goglobal.asu.edu/

Career Opportunities
Graduates of the sports journalism degree program are prepared for careers in all aspects of the media including print, broadcast, radio, online and mobile. Positions include sports writers, reporters, producers, television anchors, multimedia associates, social media specialists, and strategic communications and public relations project coordinators.

Career examples include but are not limited to those shown in the following list. Advanced degrees or certifications may be required for academic or clinical positions.
