An Overview of Autism Spectrum Disorders (Graduate Certificate)

EDSPEGRCA

ASU’s Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College is one of the top-ranked graduate colleges of education in the U.S. Our graduate programs develop purposeful innovators who bring people and ideas together to improve the lives of learners, the impact of educators and the performance of education systems.

Program Description

Degree Awarded: Certificate An Overview of Autism Spectrum Disorders (certificate)

The graduate certificate in an overview of autism spectrum disorders is ideal for educators, interventionists, paraprofessionals, psychologists, pathologists, behavior analysts and family members who want to enhance their preparation for working with children and adults affected with autism spectrum disorder.

The online program can benefit those interested in the fields of teaching, counseling, social work, speech pathology, various fields of therapy and any area that provides services to individuals on the autism spectrum.

Students can complete the graduate certificate within a two-year period while concurrently pursuing a graduate degree or they can complete it as a stand-alone certificate. Students interested in sitting for the national Board Certified Behavior Analyst exam should apply for the MA in special education with a concentration in applied behavior analysis or the applied behavior analysis graduate certificate, depending on interest and need.
