Asian Languages (Chinese), BA

A major in Chinese offers cultural insight into one of the world's oldest continuous civilizations and newest economic giants. You will gain a competitive edge in the dynamic frontier of international business and relations as well as the arts and sciences through studying the Chinese language.

Program Description

The BA degree program in Asian languages with a concentration in Chinese emphasizes proficiency in reading, writing and speaking Mandarin and in reading classical Chinese. It provides an in-depth understanding of the fundamentals of the rich Chinese cultural tradition, centered on primary Chinese texts (in Chinese and in English translation) from the literary, intellectual and religious cultures of Chinese-speaking societies. These texts include visual and written materials on a variety of topics, including:

- history
- linguistics
- literary theory
- media
- philosophy
- religion
- urban culture

Students in the program have a number of available options for enhancing their education through study abroad: https://mystudyabroad.asu.edu. Highly-motivated students interested in learning Chinese to professional-level proficiency are encouraged to inquire about the Chinese Language Flagship Program: https://international.clas.asu.edu/chineseflagship. All students with higher levels of linguistic competency may enroll in targeted courses (conducted in Chinese) offered as part of the Chinese flagship track.
