Family and Human Development, Minor

LAFASMIN

Will your career involve working with children, youth or families? A minor in family and human development provides you with coursework and hands-on experiences in human development and family systems so you can effectively work with these populations and impact the lives of those around you.

Description

The minor program in family and human development from the T. Denny Sanford School of Social and Family Dynamics exposes students to the basic coursework and issues within the discipline. This program provides an exceptional complement to studies in psychology, communication, education, business and nursing.

Depending on a student's undergraduate program of study, prerequisite courses may be needed in order to complete the requirements of this minor.

Enrollment Requirements

GPA Requirement: None

Majors Ineligible to Add This Minor: BS in family and human development

Other Enrollment Requirements: None

Current ASU undergraduate students may pursue a minor and have it recognized on their ASU transcript at graduation. Students interested in pursuing a minor should consult their academic advisor to declare the minor and to ensure that an appropriate set of courses is taken. Minor requirements appear on the degree audit once the minor is added. Certain major and minor combinations may be deemed inappropriate by the college or department of either the major program or the minor. Courses taken for the minor may not count toward both the major and the minor. Students should contact their academic advisor for more information.

Attend Online
ASU offers this program in an online format with multiple enrollment sessions throughout the year. Applicants may view the program description and request more information here.
