A certificate in modern Hebrew will add context and nuance to any study of the complex issues at play in the current Middle East. This certificate will enhance many degree programs and career paths.

Description

The certificate program in modern Hebrew provides students with a firm foundation in modern Hebrew language and a broad knowledge of Israeli culture, leading to advanced skills in reading, writing and conversing in modern Hebrew. The certificate program includes study of the Israeli culture, literature, politics and history. It enriches students’ knowledge of the Middle East and offers them deeper understanding of current affairs. Students pursuing careers in foreign policy, international business, tourism, media, translation and in different levels of education will benefit from this certificate program.

Enrollment Requirements

ASU students admitted to a degree program in any field of study will be eligible to enroll in the modern Hebrew certificate program. In order to be admitted to the certificate program, students must complete HEB 101 and 102 Elementary Modern Hebrew to satisfy the requirements to enroll in HEB 201 Intermediate Modern Hebrew.

A student pursuing an undergraduate certificate must be enrolled as a degree-seeking student at ASU. Undergraduate certificates are not awarded prior to the award of an undergraduate degree. A student already holding an undergraduate degree may pursue an undergraduate certificate as a nondegree-seeking graduate student.
