Justice Studies, BA

Do you want to create meaningful change in the world? Justice studies offers you a broad education about the world's justice systems complemented by a solid foundation of liberal arts and sciences courses that will prepare you to promote social, economic and political justice wherever you find yourself.

Program Description

Justice studies is an innovative social science program examining current social justice issues such as human rights, domestic violence and immigration, against a backdrop of legal systems, law and culture. Students enrolled in the BA program in justice studies also have the opportunity to explore other languages and cultures, giving them the tools needed to communicate and work effectively with people both within and outside the U.S. As so many social justice issues occur across countries and cultures, this equips students with a dynamic knowledge of the world's justice systems and gives them the skills to create meaningful, real-world change.
