Religious Studies, Minor
LARELMIN

The program explores the religious traditions of those around the world while also examining human interaction. Enriching viewpoints allow students to develop critical-thinking skills and an understanding of various cultures.

Description

The minor program in religious studies encourages students to engage in a comparative, cross-cultural exploration of religions and cultures that complements a variety of undergraduate majors while promoting a deeper understanding of human nature and interaction. Students may pursue the minor in religious studies with regional, national, hemispheric, global and a variety of thematic emphases.

Enrollment Requirements

GPA Requirement: None

Majors Ineligible to Add This Minor: BA in religious studies; BA in religious studies (religion, culture and public life); BA in religious studies (religion, politics and global affairs)

Other Enrollment Requirements: None

To declare the minor, students must make an appointment with an academic advisor in the School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies.

Current ASU undergraduate students may pursue a minor and have it recognized on their ASU transcript at graduation. Students interested in pursuing a minor should consult their academic advisor to declare the minor and to ensure that an appropriate set of courses is taken. Minor requirements appear on the degree audit once the minor is added. Certain major and minor combinations may be deemed inappropriate by the college or department of either the major program or the minor. Courses taken for the minor may not count toward both the major and the minor. Students should contact their academic advisor for more information.
