Global Studies, BA

LASGSBA

In global studies, you'll explore the cultures, economics, institutions and social issues that shape our increasingly globalized world. You can be an agent of change as you travel domestically and abroad to address real-world challenges.

Program Description

The BA program in global studies examines the causes and consequences of problems that cross national boundaries and the governance of these problems in social, cultural and economic contexts. The degree program aims to address real-world problems and their solutions. This mission is enabled by an internationally recognized faculty with extensive global experience from a wide variety of disciplines in the social sciences, humanities and law. The global studies program uses teaching, research and public policy activities to address some of the most challenging issues that include:

- built environments
- economic and social development
- global cities and urbanization
- global governance of health and climate change
- justice and human rights
- religious identities, rights and conflicts
- world culture

Global studies faculty members orient their work toward solving global problems by drawing on expertise in diverse disciplines, including:

- anthropology
- economics
- geography
- history
- law
- planning
- political science
- sociology
