Psychology, BA

Through foundational training in human behavior, you build skills in critical thinking, research methods and writing. Practical internships prepare you for employment in mental health agencies, social services, government and industry. You also will be prepared for graduate study in the behavioral sciences and related areas.

Program Description

Psychology is the scientific study of mind and behavior.

The BA in psychology program emphasizes critical thinking, empirical research methods and writing and adds practical experience through internships, service-learning and faculty-supervised research. The Bachelor of Arts program provides a broad foundation in psychology and affords students the flexibility to choose from a variety of courses outside the major.

Graduates are prepared for employment or preparation for graduate study in applied psychology and related fields (e.g., social work, counseling and management).

Transfer Options

ASU is committed to helping students thrive by offering tools that allow personalization of the transfer path to ASU. Students may use MyPath2ASU™ to outline a list of recommended courses to take prior to transfer.

ASU has transfer partnerships in Arizona and across the country to create a simplified transfer experience for students. These pathway programs include exclusive benefits, tools and resources, and help students save time and money in their college journey. Students may learn more about these programs by visiting the admission site: https://admission.asu.edu/transfer/pathway-programs.

Global Opportunities

Global Experience
Studying abroad allows students in the psychology program to stand out in many career fields. Students are exposed to unique differences in the human condition worldwide, are able to improve language and cross-cultural skills for effective communication, and are challenged to adapt under new social and cultural circumstances. Opportunities for study are worldwide, including in Singapore, Australia and Ireland. https://mystudyabroad.asu.edu/

Career Opportunities

The Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that the job outlook (2016-26) for psychologists is 14% (which is "faster than average").
A degree in psychology prepares students for a career in various settings:

- consulting firms
- government (sales and marketing, human resources, research, administration, management)
- hospitals
- industries and organizations
- mental health agencies
- social services (high school psychology teacher, occupational analyst)

The degree also provides an excellent foundation for graduate study in fields such as public administration, law, family studies, communication and the various graduate program fields in psychology:

- clinical and counseling
- cognitive neuroscience
- developmental
- environmental
- health
- physiological
- social
