Psychology, BA

LSPGSBA

Through foundational training in human behavior, you will build skills in critical thinking, research methods and writing. Practical internships prepare you for employment in mental health agencies, social services, government and industry. You also will be prepared for graduate study in the behavioral sciences and related areas.

Program Description

Psychology is the scientific study of mind and behavior. The BA program in psychology emphasizes critical thinking, empirical research methods and writing. It adds practical experience through internships, service-learning and faculty-supervised research. The Bachelor of Arts provides a broad foundation in psychology and affords students the flexibility to choose from a variety of courses outside the major. The bachelor's degree program prepares students for employment or preparation for graduate study in applied psychology and related fields (e.g., social work, counseling and management).
