Project Management, Minor

Become a skilled project manager and project management leader. Project management is a vital skill in today's job market.

Description

The minor in project management prepares students to manage complex projects and lead project management teams in a variety of professional settings. The project management minor complements many majors at ASU because project management skills enhance and enrich the skills students acquire from a variety of majors.

Students learn the skills needed to manage complex projects in fields like engineering, business, health care, information technology, sustainability, computing, public and nonprofit sectors and many more. Students learn skills in project leadership, project quality management, project risk management, project schedule management, project cost management and project resource management.

Enrollment Requirements

GPA Requirement: 2.00 (university minimum)

Incompatible Majors: BA in organizational leadership (project management)

Other Enrollment Requirements: None

Current ASU undergraduate students may pursue a minor and have it recognized on their ASU transcript at graduation. Students interested in pursuing a minor should consult their academic advisor to declare the minor and to ensure that an appropriate set of courses is taken. Minor requirements appear on the degree audit once the minor is added. Certain major and minor combinations may be deemed inappropriate by the college or department of either the major program or the minor. Courses taken for the minor may not count toward both the major and minor. Students should contact their academic advisor for more information.

ASU offers this program in an online format with multiple enrollment sessions throughout the year. Applicants may view the program description and request more information here.

Career Opportunities

A minor can help students enhance the marketable skills they acquire in their major program and help them develop new skills apart from it, though most career areas do require more training than a minor alone can provide. A minor in project management can help students with leadership skills communication, problem-solving, assessment, effectiveness and cultural competency skills as they pursue careers in account management, facilities management, project management and senior leadership roles. Employers in many fields seek to hire and promote those who can skillfully manage complex projects and lead project management teams.
