Program Description

Degree Awarded: JD Sports Law and Business

The sports law and business concentration under the JD program provides real-world experience to aspiring professionals and future lawyers, teaching them how to approach and solve industry problems through the lens of sports by considering all regulatory, revenue, reputational and relationship factors involved in a given scenario. It provides the theoretical and practical knowledge and experience necessary for success at the nexus of sports and law.

6. a resume that does not exceed three typed pages

Additional Application Information

The Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University enrolls only one first-year Juris Doctor class per year, and it enters in the fall semester. The Juris Doctor degree is a three-year program, and almost all students study on a full-time basis. The college does offer a flexible scheduling option for students with circumstances that make full-time enrollment impossible. Each year, far more applications are submitted to the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law than the college's facilities and programs can accommodate. Thus, admission is competitive. The Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law makes its admission decisions based upon all information contained in the applicant's file.
To be considered for admission to the program, a candidate must complete the application for admission and submit all mandatory attachments. Transcripts and letters of recommendation or evaluations must be submitted through the Law School Admissions Council's Credential Assembly Service and will be provided to the College of Law by LSAC with the applicant's LSAT record. Applicants must apply electronically through https://www.lsac.org.

An applicant whose native language is not English (regardless of current residency) must provide proof of English proficiency.

The Credential Assembly Service report must be from the current application year.

Students should refer to the program website for application deadlines.
