Health Care Coordination, BS

As a graduate of the BS program in health care coordination, you will be prepared to collaborate with individuals, families and integrated transdisciplinary care teams to meet complex health needs while navigating current and future trends in public policy that affect the delivery of health care.

Program Description

The BS program in health care coordination prepares students to effectively coordinate resources to optimize individual health outcomes.

Through coursework, students build a thorough understanding of health care systems, community and public health, community resources, health education and health advocacy.

This degree program uses the same prerequisites as the nursing major; therefore, students may transition seamlessly to this program and obtain a bachelor's degree in a health-related field.
