ASU’s School of Criminology and Criminal Justice exposes you to perspectives on why people commit crimes and what society does --- and can do better --- to prevent and respond to crime. Wherever life takes you in the field of criminal justice, this degree prepares you for a career in policing, the courts, corrections, security and investigations.

Program Description

The BS program in criminology and criminal justice is for students who want to understand the causes of crime, the role of criminal justice agencies in the control of crime and the consequences of crime.

Students learn sociological, psychological, biological and economic explanations for individual crime as well as differences in crime across neighborhoods, states, countries and over time. They also learn about the history, legal issues and current practices of crime control via police agencies, the court system, prisons, probation and parole.

These topics are delivered by top-ranking research faculty who offer students hands-on research opportunities and by experienced criminal justice professionals with intimate knowledge of the daily realities of crime and criminals. Students are encouraged to take advantage of internship opportunities in more than 200 agencies, study abroad programs and flexible course scheduling offered in-person, online and across multiple campuses.

Students interested in completing the Bachelor of Science program in Yuma are encouraged to complete a TAG program.
