Emergency Management and Homeland Security (Cybersecurity Policy and Management), MA

PPEHSCPMMA

Program Description

Degree Awarded: MA Emergency Management and Homeland Security (Cybersecurity Policy and Management)

The cybersecurity policy and management concentration within the MA program in emergency management and homeland security provides motivated students with knowledge, skills and abilities to assume leadership, key management and other key operational positions with public sector agencies (or related private sector organizations) with responsibilities related to managing cybersecurity hazards in the area of homeland security, emergency management, critical infrastructure protection, risk management, and other related fields. Cybersecurity is an important threat and vulnerability issue that cuts across multiple domains. This concentration is uniquely geared toward emergency management, homeland security, critical infrastructure protection, hazard mitigation, planning and emergency preparedness professionals who do not seek nor require specific technical training in cybersecurity, but instead have major operational responsibilities that pertain to cyber-related vulnerabilities. This concentration is a unique contribution: it provides education and training on cyber policy and management issues for general administrators. Further, it leverages the PLuS Alliance for shared course offerings.
