Global Affairs (Graduate Certificate)

ASU is not currently accepting applications for this program.

Thunderbird's global affairs certificate trains the next generation of global leaders and policymakers to meet the complex challenges of a globalizing economy. This program offers students and working professionals rigorous coursework taught by Thunderbird faculty members who are among the world's leading scholars of global affairs.

Program Description

Degree Awarded: Certificate Global Affairs (Certificate)
The graduate certificate program in global affairs is designed to provide an in-depth study of the global political economy, global theory, global institutional environment, decision-making and global strategy.

The global affairs certificate provides a foundation for students to become globally-minded policymakers serving in national, regional or local government agencies; international or nongovernmental organizations; or multinational corporations. The school's innovative and practical curriculum (a strong core of global business management skills, international political economy and cross-cultural training) is delivered through a transdisciplinary approach.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.
