Global Management, Certificate

If you are interested in doing business in other countries, you need a solid foundation to build on for a career in global business. This program teaches the fundamental principles and practices of international business management for operating in multiple countries and making decisions about entering new markets.

Description

Research from McKinsey and Company, a highly respected consulting firm, indicates that in the near future, almost 40% of the growth globally will result from just 400 cities in emerging markets around the world. This certificate program in global management provides broad-based training in global business and global studies that helps prepare students for a global management career. It offers unique courses that integrate an in-depth understanding of the political, economic and cultural aspects of doing business in specific regions with tools to assess business trends in specific countries.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years. Home to the Bachelor of Global Management and Bachelor of International Trade, the school's innovative and practical curriculum complements a strong core of global business management skills, international political economy and cross-cultural training, with a transdisciplinary approach. The alumni network has over 45,000 graduates across 170 chapters around the globe.
