Education Exploratory

Moment by moment, day by day and person by person, educators ignite minds and strengthen communities. Programs at Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College offer a blend of classroom instruction and professional experiences that prepare you to ask the right questions, navigate uncertainty and make a difference.

Program Description

Students in the education exploratory track have the unique opportunity to explore different certification areas prior to selecting one of many majors within the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College.

During the program's first year of coursework, which includes four foundational education courses, and through specific co-curricular events scheduled throughout the first and second terms, students on this track are exposed to all programs and certification areas. Students make a more informed decision about the grade level or subject they want to teach while the exploratory track keeps them on track to graduate from any of the BAE programs.

This track does not lead to a degree, and students need to declare a major after completion of 30 credit hours.

Transfer Options

ASU is committed to helping students thrive by offering tools that allow personalization of the transfer path to ASU. Students may use the Transfer Map search to outline a list of recommended courses to take prior to transfer.

ASU has transfer partnerships in Arizona and across the country to create a simplified transfer experience for students. These pathway programs include exclusive benefits, tools and resources, and help students save time and money in their college journey. Students may learn more about these programs by visiting the admission site: https://admission.asu.edu/transfer/pathway-programs.

Global Opportunities

Global Experience

Students explore education in other countries while building collaborative and critical-thinking skills through study abroad. Alongside peers from other countries, they learn how educational systems around the world work to serve their populations. Students stay on track academically by participating in a program over winter or spring break. https://mystudyabroad.asu.edu
